7 PART

TWO

ELECTION OF SPEAKER, DEPUTY SPEAKER AND OATHS

8. (1) There shall be a Speaker of Parliament who shall be elected by the Members of Parliament from among persons who are Members of Parliament or who are qualified to be elected as such under the Constitution.

Qualifications of Speaker
cf. Article 95
(1) of Constitution and election of the Speaker at commencement of Parliament.

(2) Whenever there is a vacancy in the office of Speaker as a result of a dissolution, Parliament shall proceed to the election of a Speaker as soon as a quorum is present and before Members have been sworn.

(3) Prior to the election the Clerk shall act as Chairman of the House.

(4) No person shall be proposed as Speaker unless the person has given his consent to be nominated.

(5) A Member, addressing himself to the Clerk, shall propose such person to the House as its Speaker and shall move that such person "do take the Chair of this House as Speaker," which motion must be seconded without debate.

(6) If one person only is proposed, he shall be declared elected and conducted to the Chair without any Question being put.

Secret Ballot of
Speaker Article
104 (4)
of the Constitution
and procedure.

9. (1) Where more than one person is proposed a motion shall be made and seconded in respect of each person, and the House shall proceed to elect a Speaker by secret ballot in accordance with the provisions of this Order.

(2) When nominations have been received the Clerk shall announce that the ballot will now be taken, and unless a Member rises to speak, no fresh nominations shall be taken.

(3) An officer of Parliament shall give to each Member present a ballot paper on which the Member may record his vote by writing the name of the person for whom he wishes to vote.

(4) A Member can only vote for someone who has been duly nominated and seconded.

(5) Each ballot paper shall be folded so that the name written on it cannot be seen. The ballot papers shall then be collected by an officer of Parliament and counted at the Table by the Clerk who shall then declare the result.

(6) Where two persons are proposed and seconded for the Office of Speaker, the person who receives the greater number of votes shall be declared elected as Speaker.

(7) Where at any ballot between two candidates the votes are equal, another ballot shall be held.

(8) At any ballot between more than two persons who have been proposed and seconded the candidate who receives the greatest number of votes shall be declared elected as Speaker, provided that he has received a majority of the votes of Members present; but if no candidate has received such majority the name of the candidate who has received the smallest number of votes shall be withdrawn, the candidate obtaining the smallest number of votes at each ballot being excluded until one candidate obtains a majority.

(9) Where there is equality of votes between candidates who receive the smallest number of votes, and one of them has to be excluded from the election under paragraph (8) of this order there shall be a ballot to determine which of them shall be excluded.

10. (1) As soon as possible after his election oath of the Speaker-elect shall be conducted to the Speaker House and he shall immediately take the Oath of Allegiance and the Speaker's Oath as set out in Appendix C to these Standing Orders. The Oaths shall be administered by the Chief Justice.

(2) The Speaker-elect may, instead of taking the Oath, make and subscribe a solemn affirmation as set out in Appendix C to these Standing Orders.

Election of new Speaker

Speaker vacates office cf. Article 95 (3) of the Constitution.

11. (1) Whenever it is necessary to elect a new Speaker because Mr. Speaker has vacated his office for any reason, the Chair shall be taken by the First Deputy Speaker; and in the absence of the latter, by the Second Deputy Speaker. If both officers are absent the House may by motion elect a Member to preside over the election of a new Speaker.

Election of Deputy Speakers Cf. Article 96 of the Constitution

(2) Whenever it is necessary to proceed to elect a new Speaker because of notification by Mr. Speaker of his intention to relinquish that office, then Mr. Speaker shall continue to take the Chair until a new Speaker has been elected, whereupon he shall leave the Chair and shall cease to perform those duties and to exercise that authority and the Speaker-elect shall take the Chair accordingly.

12. (1) At the commencement of every Parliament, or as may be necessary, the House shall elect two Deputy Speakers who shall be known as the First and Second Deputy Speakers.

(2) The Deputy Speaker shall be elected from among the Members of Parliament and both of them shall not be Members of the same political party.

(3) The rules prescribed for the election of Speaker shall be observed in respect of the election of Deputy Speakers except that Mr. Speaker shall be in the Chair.

13. (1) Either of the Deputy Speakers shall take the Chair as Deputy Speaker whenever requested to do so by Mr. Speaker during a Sitting of the House without any formal communication to the House.

Temporary or continued absence of Mr. Speaker.

(2) Whenever the House is informed by the Clerk at the Table of the unavoidable absence of Mr. Speaker, the First Deputy Speaker shall perform the duties and exercise the authority of Mr. Speaker in relation to all proceedings of the House until Mr. Speaker resumes the Chair, without any further communication to the House.

(3) Whenever the House is informed by the Clerk at the Table of the unavoidable absence of both Mr. Speaker and the First

Deputy Speaker, the Second Deputy Speaker shall perform the duties and exercise the authority of the Speaker in accordance with paragraph (2) of this Order.

Oaths by Members of Article 100
(1) of the Constitution.

14. (1) Every Member shall, before taking his seat formally in Parliament, take and subscribe before the Speaker, in the House and in the presence of the other Members of Parliament, the Oath of Allegiance and the Oath of a Member of Parliament as set out in Appendix C (1) and (3) to these Standing Orders.

(2) A Member may, instead of taking the Oath, make and subscribe to a solemn affirmation in the form presented in Appendix C (1) and (3) to these Standing Orders.

(3) A Member may, before taking the Oaths referred to in paragraph (1) of this Order, take part in the election of the Speaker.

Leave of absence.

15. (1) Every Member shall attend the service of the House unless leave of absence has been given him by Mr. Speaker.

(2) leave of absence may be given by Mr. Speaker to any Member who shows sufficient cause justifying his absence or who is away on official or parliamentary duties.

16. (1) A Member shall not absent himself during a meeting for more than fifteen sittings without the permission in writing of the Speaker. Any Member infringing this Order shall have his conduct referred to the Privileges Committee.

Absence without leave cf. Article 97 1 (c) of the Constitution.

(2) A Member shall be excused from service on the House or on any Committee, so long as he has leave of absence.

17. A Member who desires to resign his seat in the House shall notify Mr. Speaker in writing under his hand of his intention to resign his seat and Mr. Speaker shall inform the House as soon as practicable.

Resignation of Seat cf. Article 97 (l) (t) of the Constitution.

18. The seat of a Member shall be declared vacant by Mr. Speaker under clause (I) (b) to (h) of Article 97 of the Constitution.

Declaration of vacant seats cf. Article 97 1 (b) to (h) of the Constitution

19. In all cases as provided under orders 17 and 18 the Clerk shall immediately notify the Electoral Commission who shall take steps to fill the vacancies thus created in accordance with Article 112 (5) of the Constitution.

Clerk to notify Electoral Commission to fill vacancies cf. Article 112 (5) of the Constitution.

14 PART

THREE

Sub-Part One

PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES

Freedom of speech and proceedings
cf. Article 115 of the Constitution.

20. There shall be freedom of speech, debate and proceedings in Parliament and that freedom shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of Parliament.

Immunity from proceedings for acts in Parliament
cf. Article
116(1) of the Constitution.

21. No civil or criminal proceedings shall be instituted against a Member of Parliament in any court or place out of Parliament for any matter or thing brought by him in or before Parliament by way of petition, bill, motion or otherwise.

Immunity from service
of process
and arrest
cf.
Article 117.

22. No civil or criminal process coming from any court or place out of Parliament shall be served on, or executed in relation to, Mr. Speaker or a Member or the Clerk to Parliament while he is on his way to, attending at or returning from any proceedings of Parliament.

23. (1) Neither Mr. Speaker nor a Member of, nor the Clerk to Parliament shall be compelled, while attending Parliament to appear as a witness in any court or place out of Parliament.

Immunity from witness summons cf. Articles 118(1) and (2).

(2) The certificate of Mr. Speaker that a Member or the Clerk is attending the proceedings of Parliament shall be conclusive evidence of attendance at Parliament.

24. Neither Mr. Speaker nor a Member of, nor the Clerk to Parliament shall be required to serve on a jury in any court or place out of Parliament.

Immunity from service as Juror cf. Article 119.

25. Subject to the provisions of the Constitution no person shall be under any civil or criminal liability in respect of the publication of -

(a) the text or a summary of any report, papers, minutes, votes or proceedings of Parliament; or

(b) a contemporaneous report of the proceedings of Parliament, unless it is shown that the publication was effected maliciously or otherwise in bad faith.

Immunity for publication of proceedings cf. Article 120 of the Constitution.

Privileges
of witness
cf. Article 121
of the Constitution.

26. ( 1) A person summoned to attend to give evidence or to produce any document or record before Parliament shall be entitled, in respect of his evidence, or the production of the document, as the case may be, to the same privileges as if he were appearing before a Court.

(2) No public officer shall be required to produce before Parliament a document, the disclosure of which is certified by Mr. Speaker or the National Security Council as being either injurious to public interest or prejudicial to the security of the State; and where there is any doubt as to the nature of such class of documents its determination shall be referred by Mr. Speaker to the Supreme Court.

(3) An answer by a person to a question put by Parliament shall not be admissible in evidence against him in any civil or criminal proceedings out of Parliament, unless they are proceedings for perjury brought under the criminal law.

APPENDIX B*OPENING PRAYERS

ALMIGHTY GOD, we humbly beseech Thee to look with favour upon this Parliament of the Republic of Ghana. Grant that it may perform its high duty as in Thy sight. Give Divine guidance to the President of the Republic; endow Members of Parliament and Ministers of State with discernment and vision, integrity and courage that through the labours of government this land and people may be well and truly served, and Thy good purposes for the common human life be realised in our midst

AMEN.

O GOD, grant us a vision of our country, fair as it might be, a country of righteousness, where none shall wrong his neighbour; a country of plenty, where evil and poverty shall be done away with; a country of brotherhood, where all success shall be founded on service, and honour shall be given to the deserving; a country of peace, where government shall rest on the will of the people and the love for the common good. Bless the efforts of those who struggle to make this vision a living reality. Inspire and strengthen our people that they may give time, thought and sacrifice to speed the day of the coming beauty of Ghana and Africa.

AMEN.

I, .....

(swear by Almighty God) (solemnly affirm) that the evidence I shall give before this Committee touching the matter in issue shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. (So help me God).
